PRODUCT BRIEFS

DOCUMENT MANAGEMENT FOR SOHOs

Easy Data Access (EDA), software developer, has announced the Professional Edition of its Docsvault document management software. The program is designed to help individual professionals and small office/home office (SOHO) businesses more effectively organize, manage and secure their paper and data files.

The Professional Edition is designed to give users not only feature-rich document management software but also an ensemble of business applications. With an easy-to-use interface similar to Windows' file explorer, Docsvault promises simple functionality and unique features. Integrated scanning and PDF creation capabilities provide a quick way to convert paper documents into electronic files, transforming cluttered workplaces into a paperless office. One-click CD/DVD burning, along with full data back-up settings, offers protection against data loss and a painless document retention solution.

Docsvault Professional Edition also features:

- * 128-bit file encryption security for users' most important files;
- * Microsoft Office and Outlook integration;
- * A comprehensive password and information manager;
- * A unique task management system;
- * Multiple-tab browsing of cabinets and folders;
- * Custom property and profile assignment to files and folders;
- * Version control and audit trailing.

"Previously, the high cost and complex functionality of document management systems limited single users and professionals from taking advantage of this technology," said Ketul Patel, Easy Data Access President and CTO.

"Professional users as well as home users require adaptive solutions designed to meet their individual needs, without the IT hassle or expense. With the release of Docsvault Professional Edition, the SOHO industry now has a cost-effective and feature-rich DMS solution to become more organized, more productive and decidedly more efficient."

The single-user Professional Edition is available now for $49.99 from EDA's Web site. The multiple-user SMB (Small- and Medium- sized Business) Edition is expected to be released in the fourth quarter of 2006. Easy Data

Access is a software development firm that seeks to fulfill distinct niches within the data management area by providing high-quality software and services at an affordable price. Headquartered in St. Louis, EDA has a sales office in Hong Kong with R&D facilities in India.
