Summary:
Find out how Docsvault helped a USA based metal finishing company to meet their core objectives.

“We have been able to manage and automate so many of our processes using DocsVault. There are so many tools and features that we discover new things every week that streamline or eliminate parts of our current paper-based processes. Very powerful software that gives our end-users instant access to the files they need and perform the work they need to do on them.”

Introduction
Anoplate was founded in 1960 to serve a growing need among what was then a very small, locally based machine shop and tool industry. As one of the largest and most respected metal finishing companies in the U.S. today, 220+ employees are dedicated to the delivery of world class finishing services and products for their customers worldwide. Anoplate operates from a 104,000 square foot facility, single location in Central New York State.

Challenges
Anoplate employees were struggling to manage their paper documents. The outdated method of document collaboration made it extremely hard to find, manage, share and secure information across the organization. The manual process was causing great inconvenience when people had to be present in the office to review and approve documents, and auditability and security was a dilemma.

Solution
Anoplate digitized and automated their document process in Docsvault. Docsvault’s built-in Scanning tool eliminated Anoplate’s paper work by digitalizing all the documents. Search, Security, Profiling and Version Control features made it easier for them to centralize, securely manage and track all their business documents and processes. Automated electronic workflow saved a lot of time and money by electronically moving documents around the workplace for faster review & approvals.

Benefits
Docsvault’s diverse tools and features have helped Anoplate employees to go paperless and explore various ways to more effectively manage and collaborate their documents.

After implementing Docsvault, Anoplate staff members are able to work more productively because they are no longer wasting time searching for information or having to contact colleagues in other departments for help with finding documents.

Docsvault’s simple yet powerful document management tools allow Anoplate users to retain control over important or sensitive information, and ensure all documents can only be accessed by people with correct authorization.
